Local Laws

- Everybody from the age of 14 must be able to show a valid identity document to police officers and other law enforcement authorities on their request.
- Don't carry or use drugs. The Netherlands has a reputation for being tolerant on the use of so-called 'soft drugs'. In reality drugs are prohibited and this tolerance exists only for designated premises in the major cities. Possession of prohibited substances or buying them outside these designated areas can carry a prison sentence. Buying or smoking soft drugs in public places is an offence. There are specifically designated cafés where the use of cannabis is licensed. Although popular, the sale of both dry and fresh psychoactive mushrooms is forbidden by law. Be extremely careful as combinations of alcohol, cannabis and psychoactive mushrooms are a fatal cocktail and have resulted in several deaths.

MESSAGE TO SUPPORTERS :

Rangers takes this opportunity to remind supporters, especially those travelling to the Netherlands for the Europa League match against Feyenoord, that they have a duty to represent the Club in the best possible way.

There must be no singing of songs, or behaviour which UEFA could deem unacceptable and the Club urges all our fans in the Netherlands to do everything possible to portray themselves and Rangers in the best possible light. Remember that UEFA has already imposed a sanction on Rangers so we must be vigilant and give them no cause to take further and more serious action against us.

The behaviour of our fans in recent times has been exemplary but it is important to maintain those standards at home and abroad. At all times we must be aware that whatever we do, both inside and outside the stadium today and tomorrow, our behaviour will come under the closest scrutiny.

Having said that, however, this fixture also provides another opportunity for Rangers to be showcased as a modern, all-inclusive Club. Let others fall foul of the authorities while we concentrate on supporting Steven Gerrard and his players in the correct way.

Be loud and be heard and hopefully celebrate a victory with the team at the end of the match but please, keep in mind that UEFA's view of racism is wide ranging, which means singing or behaviour that could bring much more serious repercussions for the Club must be avoided.

In the same way the players are ambassadors for our Club so, too, are we, the supporters. So enjoy Rotterdam, enjoy the game and together let's promote Rangers positively. Let's set higher standards and continue to demonstrate that Rangers is for Everyone, Anyone.
